

It is difficult sometimes to know if the funeral home you are considering is independent or part of a large corporation. Often, when ownership changes, the facade, staff and administration continue to function and appear as normal. One clue is an oval shaped sign in the front with a green tree and underneath the tree, green lettering saying Dignity Memorial. This symbol is a registered trademark of Service Corporation International.

 You can ask the funeral director if the funeral home is an independent funeral home or under the helm of either Stewart Enterprises or SCI.
